The University
HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION

THE LANDS OF THE ABOVE-NAMED ASSOCIATION are situated in San Francisco and are eligibly and most desirably located, adjoining the grounds purchased by the Presbyterian University Society, on which College buildings are to be at once erected. The site is less than thirty minutes' ride from Montgomery street; lying just west or back of the lands of the South San Francisco Homestead and Railroad Association and the Bay View Park, almost within a stone's throw of ST. MARY'S COLLEGE.

The tract will require little or no grading, there being scarcely a single lot on which it would not be safe to build without any change of grade. It commands a

Beautiful View of the Bay,

And its opposite shore, and has a soil of extreme richness. So great are the natural attractions of the spot that very many of the wealthy citizens of San Francisco have already purchased whole blocks in the same tract, and design building residences thereon.

The Rev. E. Thomas, D. D.,

Is President of the Association; Lester L. Robinson, formerly Vice President of the Sacramento Railroad Company, is the Treasurer, and Thomas B. Lewis, formerly of Portland, Secretary.

Four lots, 25x120 feet each, constitute a share, costing $315—paid in monthly installments of $10 each, after the first payment of $10 has been made.

Maps and books giving full information of the workings of the Association can be obtained at the store of J. L. PARRISH & CO.

It is an easy and a cheap way for young men to procure property which will in a few years make them independent.

CONGRESS AT ITS LAST SESSION HAVING passed a BANKRUPT LAW, it is now within the power of every man that is hopelessly in debt, to free himself from the press of debts which cramp his action, and which he is wholly unable otherwise to discharge. The District Court of the United States, which sits alone in the city of Portland, has, under this law, an exclusive jurisdiction of all cases in Bankruptcy. The undersigned have procured a copy of the law and are ready, as soon as a Register is appointed, to attend promptly to procuring discharges in Bankruptcy for all who may feel disposed to favor them with their patronage.

They have also found one [illegible] copper leads in Cow creek valley [illegible] Mr. J. H. Nichols, and Messrs. [illegible] are the discoverers of these rich deposits. [illegible] discoveries are those on Cow creek. [illegible] without doubt yield 20 per cent. silver [illegible] rock. The "Lady Bell," near Canyonville [illegible] silver, the "Mammoth" yields 10 per cent. [illegible] named lead passes nearly if not directly through [illegible] ville." The correspondent adds: "I have not [illegible] space to detail to you the richness of all the lead [illegible] ered, but sufficient to say we are going far ahead of Washoe or Owyhee."

FROM WALLA WALLA.

[illegible] following is from the Statesman of the [illegible] instant:

THE FIRE.

On Friday afternoon, about 3 o'clock a fire broke out in the carpenter shop of J. W. [illegible] Alder street, next to the corner of [illegible] The fire caught in a pile of shavings, [illegible] most an instant the whole building was wrapped in flames. Mrs. Smith occupied the [illegible] shop as a dwelling, and with her [illegible] was barely able to escape with the clo[illegible] on. All her household furniture, [illegible] was destroyed. Nothing was removed from the carpenter shop, and several carpenters [illegible] their tool chests in the building lost all their tools. The fire communicated to the blacksmith shop of Mr. J. F. Abbott, but anticipating the destruction of the building, nearly all the tools [illegible] been moved to a place of safety. The building adjoining the carpenter shop on the south [illegible] owned by Mr. Ward, was also destroyed. Mrs. J. W. Schull, who lived in this building, was fortunate enough to save all her furniture and clothing. The total loss will foot up two thousand dollars, divided about equally between Messrs. Abbott, Ward and Smith. The same property was burned over at the time of the great fire last Fourth of July, at which time the same parties were heavy sufferers. As to the origin of the fire nothing is known, with certainty, although it is supposed to have originated with children who were carelessly allowed to have matches, and in this way fired the carpenter shop. Mrs. Smith was in a rear room at the time, but knew nothing of her danger until the whole building was on fire. The engine, manned by volunteer firemen, was early on the ground, and did good service in preventing the fire from extending to adjoining buildings. It fortunately happened that there was very little wind at the time, and thus we were spared what for the moment threatened a destructive conflagration. On this, as on a former occasion, the little stream that flows down Alder street, was the main means in enabling the firemen and citizens to stop the progress of the fire, and looking to its usefulness in this respect, we think it would be well for the city authorities to arrange to have a full supply of water flowing along the street at all times. At the Fourth of July fire, it was this stream that prevented the conflagration extending to Main street, and it was owing to the same agency, that the fire was so readily extinguished on Tuesday last. It not unfrequently happens that the flume at the upper end of town breaks and the water is shut off for days at a time. In cases of this kind it would be well for the city authorities to arrange to have the repairs made, and thus secure at all times, an abundant supply of water for the extinguishment of fires.

MAIL CONTRACT.

We understand that the contract for carrying the United States Mails between Walla Walla and Missoula City, has been awarded to Mr. John Allman, the gentleman who has been carrying the mail for several months past. The price to be paid is not stated. The service will be semi weekly, and is to be by stages. We understand that Mr. Allman will at once proceed to stock the line, and that in a very brief time we may expect to be in communication with Missoula City by means of a line of stages. The contract for carrying the mail between Walla Walla and Pierce City, has been awarded to Mr. King, the owner of the Lewiston line of stages—compensation $6,500 per annum. We are glad that King secured the contract; for many months he carried the mails free of charge, and if there is anything to be made out of the service he certainly is entitled to it. In regard to the Colville mail, we are unable to learn anything certain beyond the fact that it has been awarded. Who the lucky contractor is, and what the figure at which it has been awarded, is a matter which at this writing is shrouded in mystery.

A rural paper advertises for fifty young ladies of sufficient age "to go in company," who dare confess that they have ever made a loaf of bread or a pudding.

FROM IDAHO.

From the Boise Statesman of the 16th we have the following:

FROM GENERAL CROOK.

Major Walker arrived last night by stage from Ruby, [illegible] Camp Warner. A [illegible] General on the 23d of [illegible] all his stock. He [illegible] started on a [illegible] on Dun[illegible] creek [illegible] as usual, [illegible] thirty [illegible] the horses [illegible] stampeding [illegible] before [illegible] the guard [illegible] About [illegible] hardly enough [illegible] and men [illegible] for more [illegible] footing". [illegible] Camp Warner Major Walker [illegible] stock belong[illegible] the effort to re[illegible] was killed. Gen. Crook is [illegible] but intends [illegible] all summer; and [illegible] successful or [illegible] to clean them out before leaving them. Major [illegible] and Dr. [illegible] with Major Walker. They re[illegible] three days.

[illegible]

The miners in all the different localities are busy at work sluicing or getting ready. On Buena Vista bar a great many claims are already washing out the ore. In Moore's Creek the miners are devoting themselves principally to washing off the surplus water and drifting sand [illegible] fill up their claims. [illegible] will [illegible] Boise Basin. The road to Idaho City has been horribly bad, but is now improving.

FARMING.

The [illegible] of ground being sown to small grain this spring in Boise valley is considerably greater than that of any former year. There is no longer any question [illegible] possibility of getting wheat made into flour, [illegible] farmers [illegible] in put[illegible] Wheat this year will be available as [illegible] good [illegible] home market.

ROADS.

The roads to Umatilla are said to be in a various condition. From here to Express Ranch it is tolerably good, excepting that the water in the Payette and Weiser is high. From Express Ranch to the foot of the Blue mountains any amount of mud, and much of the way very bad [illegible] fair, though [illegible] "beyond," [illegible] good. The stages are making the time from Umatilla in four and five days.

FROM THE UPPER COLUMBIA.

A letter from Spokane to the Walla Walla Statesman gives the following [illegible]:

[illegible] work has been done during the winter on [illegible] Bridge, across the [illegible] Col. Wright's Ford and it is now a very strong [illegible] The owners are very accommodating to the traveling public, their rates of toll being very reasonable. [illegible] talk of some diggings on Thompson's river. The country there looks very favorable for discoveries, and we prospected some last summer; as it is on the route to Blackfoot, via the steamboat, many miners will stop to prospect. [illegible] diggings [illegible] here actually been found [illegible] yet [illegible] but many men [illegible] on the [illegible] The Spokane [illegible] additional set[illegible]

FROM PUGET SOUND.

[illegible] looking up on Puget Sound in consequence of [illegible] demand of the lumber. Ship building is also [illegible] to be a business of considerable importance. At Port Townsend the Oakland Bros. are building a schooner of two hundred tons for freighting and fishing purposes, which they hope to have afloat early in the coming season. [illegible] we hear of a large vessel being built at Seabeck. A small screw steamer is [illegible] at Port Madison, while a [illegible] is nearly finished at Port Orchard. A correspondent writing from Coupeville, [illegible] under date of the 8th inst., says: The schooner Good Templar was [illegible] fully launched at five o'clock last Saturday evening in the presence of several hundred people, who cheered heartily as she gracefully glided out the [illegible] upon which she is destined to move. The builder, H. O. Williamson, who deserves very great praise, was also heartily cheered by the ladies and gentlemen present. She is a great improvement on his former efforts. This is the third vessel he has built [illegible] the last three years. He has the keel out for another still larger.

The Democratic Nominee of W. T., and the Hudson's Bay Claims

The [illegible] has an article on this subject which we copy for the benefit of Washington Territory readers. It is worth the while of [illegible] voters [illegible] to consider the [illegible] making [illegible] their decision as between the two candidates. The paper above mentioned says:

It will be seen by referring to the proceedings of the Copperhead convention, lately held at the city of Vancouver, W. T., that the friends and agents of the English corporation that heads this article have neither been [illegible] negligent to look up after their interests. They [illegible] and have been successful in securing a [illegible] of their [illegible] to the Democratic party of Washington Territory [illegible] to the American Congress. The [illegible] of Frank Clark, Attorney for Her Britannic Majesty's Hudson's corporation, [illegible] the Hudson's Bay Company [illegible] important [illegible] gained by that company. Washington Territory [illegible] the larger portion of the [illegible] which the H. B. Co. [illegible] now presenting a claim against the United States for a large [illegible] money. The people of this Territory, are supposed [illegible] the real value of the property, perhaps, [illegible] If their Delegate [illegible] the payment of the H. B. Co. claims, it is [illegible] his services [illegible] to them, [illegible] own interest, [illegible] Britannic corporation [illegible] did not [illegible] politics, by entering the field in Washington Territory [illegible] with a success that may [illegible] them to [illegible] their efforts. The nomination of this feed attorney of the wealthy and powerful English corporation, [illegible] moral certainty that the [illegible] men of Washington Territory in the coming contest will have to contend with English gold. The H. B. Co. can well afford to expend a quarter of a million dollars in English sovereigns to procure a position of influence in the National Councils to their attorney, and our Union friends over there, and all friends of the American Government and people will do well to note the relations that exist between the Democratic candidate and the H. B. Co., and discourage by decided action this flagrant attempt on the part of English gold to influence elections in any part of this Union.

The Confederates claimed that if England had recognized them, they would have succeeded. We hope the Union men of Washington Territory, will demonstrate the fallacy of this statement by putting the Confederates of that Territory to an ignominious flight, English recognition and all.

A Gold Dredging Machine.

A late New York paper of a late date contains the following. The invention spoken of may be of use in obtaining gold on some of our own rivers:

At a late meeting of the Polytechnic Association of the American Institute of New York, Mr. Johnson submitted the model of a new dredging machine, about to be employed on the Chattahoochee river, Georgia, for the purpose of raising the sands of that river, preparatory to washing them for gold. The machine, consisting simply of a flexible tube, six inches, more or less, in diameter, according to the service expected, is thrown over the side of a boat or vessel. The end of this tube is so connected as to rest with its lower and open face upon the sand to be raised; the other end is connected with a centrifugal pump on board the vessel. He claims that with this he can raise ten tons per minute of any loose sand or sediment. Even stones, to the size of small cobble stones, would pass freely through the pump with the finer and fluid mass.

Another member, Mr. Lee, remarked that he had used a similar apparatus for removing the sand around sunken wrecks, for widening the channels of rivers, bays, etc. The plan might be used with good success for dredging harbors, docks, etc. He had used it in seventy feet depth of water.

Moreover, when gold is contained in the loose sands of river beds, as it often is, and the sea beach, as at Gold Bluff, it might be worked by hand or horse power. The expense of such an ingenious apparatus need not be very heavy.

In answer to some objections with regard to the utility of such a machine for gold working, suggested by a member, Mr. Johnson, who introduced the model to the attention of the Association, remarked that he was sanguine of the success of the enterprise for that work in certain localities, as, for instance, in the Chattahoochee river. He had worked the sands of that river for gold and found the precious metal in the loose as well as the closely packed or dead sands. Black sand was also found mingled with the former, as well as with the latter, and wherever it was found in that river it yielded fine gold.

In Philadelphia several young men were arrested and locked up for lounging on the pavement in front of church during service.

The Daily Oregonian.

THURSDAY MORNING, APRIL 25, 1867.

Results of the Conflict.

Hereafter there will be a Republican party in the South. The victory over the rebellion was a victory for free speech and the free exercise of political opinions. Republican Conventions are now being held at Richmond, at Charleston, at Montgomery. Men may meet for political discussion without intimidation, and without fear of mobs and halters. In 1860 political meetings in the interest of the Republican party, like those now being held in the South, would have been dispersed by mob violence. No man at that time would have been rash enough to hazard his life by making speeches in those States in support of the party which elected Abraham Lincoln. The Republican party was denounced as a sectional organization; but it was not sectional in its aims and purposes, and was sectional in its operations only because its enemies stifled free speech and muzzled the press in more than one-third of the States of the Union. That the strength of that party was confined to a section was not its fault, but resulted from the intolerance of its enemies. From the time of its earliest organization it was ready to push into the Southern States and organize there; and now for the first time the opportunity is presented. The war has broken down the despotism that prohibited free discussion in a large portion of our country, and one of the first results of free speech is the organization of the party which, under the old rule of intolerance and violence, was excluded from the Southern portion of the Union. Hereafter the Republican party will be a power in the South. It may not be able for years to command the vote of that section; but under the fostering influences of free speech and a free press, sustained by all the various educational agencies which are wielded by the party of freedom and progress in this nation, the power of this rising party in those States will make itself felt. Even at this time it is not to be despised. The announcement of a "Republican Convention at Richmond," tells the story of the victory for the principles of freedom. The right of free discussion is at last established in every part of our country. They who thought to prevent the growth of the party of freedom by interdicting free speech, by establishing a despotic censorship over the press, by forbidding the propagation of any except pro-slavery doctrines, and by employing violent measures to prevent the spread of liberal ideas and keep the people in ignorance, can now see the consequences of their error. Men who undertake a task like this in the present age, are taking on themselves more than a herculean labor. The state of things which those men of the South supposed they could prevent by violence, is established in spite of their opposition.

Two "Incontrovertible Propositions."

The "organ" in considering the legal phases of the late rebellion,—which, however, it will not admit was a rebellion, but only an act of "State sovereignty" or an exercise of "State authority"—it goes deep into the legal questions involved in the secession movement, and oracularly lays down two legal propositions which no intelligent man will controvert." In its article of last Sunday, we find one of these propositions:

> To regard the war as an insurrection or rebellion, is to admit the destruction of State governments and to deny State authority.

This is a proposition which we did not undertake to controvert as it is the position held by the Union party. But we find it "controverted" in the next issue but one of the "organ," in this style:

> If the late conflict was an insurrection and was put down as such, the governments—State or General—were not destroyed or impaired by the resistance offered to their authority.

Taken together, these two "incontrovertible legal propositions" do not seem quite clear. There is a difference between them that minds of ordinary comprehension must find it difficult to reconcile. In the first place we are positively assured that if the conflict was an insurrection, or rebellion, the State governments were destroyed. And secondly, that if the conflict was an insurrection and was put down as such, the State governments were not in the least impaired by it. We must be pardoned if we do not see our way quite clear through the difficulties of these "legal principles." The simple announcement that you have "legal propositions that cannot be controverted," is apt to produce confusion of mind. Perhaps the "organ" in the fulness of its legal learning will give its readers the benefit of two or three columns in elucidation of these propositions, treating them severally, jointly and severally, and jointly. The "organ" boasts that it argues "from the basis of established principles and fundamental laws." If the above are such, we must acknowledge our inability to argue from both of them, at least, at the same time. The above is a fair sample of the knowledge, learning and consistency of the "organ" under its present management. Such senile garrulity must necessarily entangle itself in contradictions at every turn. The stock-holders had better reinstate Abbott as editor. With all his stupidity he was not stupid enough to contradict himself every other day, or worse, to contradict himself repeatedly within the limits of a single article.

The New York Day Book, the organ of the bed-rock Democracy of the United States, gives the following striking view of the principles of its party:

> Here we see the strangest of all the strange anomalies that ever mystified and bewildered the reason of mankind,—Jefferson Davis, the true embodiment of the American system, political and social, imprisoned as a rebel, while Abraham Lincoln, the chief and leader of a revolution that necessarily destroys that system, is regarded as a martyr and champion of the Union.

This is democracy enough, we should think for any one. It very fairly and fully illustrates the principles of a large section of that party. Indeed it may be questioned whether the larger share of the party does not hold these views. They would suit a majority of the Democrats of this State exactly. The above extract is almost as good Confederate doctrine as that published daily by the Oregon Herald.

A Glimpse into the Condition of England.—A statement recently made by Sir John Parkington in a lecture delivered by him on the subject of national education, affords us a glimpse of the social and economical condition of the people of England. The substance of the statement is this: Of the 18,000,000 of the population of England and Wales, those who possess an income, from any source—from property or the wages of labor—of £100 (equal to $500) a year or upwards, are, according to the most reliable information, less than half a million. Sir John said he believed the real number to be about 480,000. But taking them at 500,000, and then allowing the usual average of five persons to a family, there will remain 16,500,000 of men, women and children in England, who are dependent on incomes of less than £100 a year.

Great Bridge.—It is contemplated to build a bridge across the Mississippi, at St. Louis. It will be 2,700 feet long and fifty feet above high water mark, and it will be necessary to bridge the length of two blocks in St. Louis before coming to the city grade. There will be two spans over the main steamboat channel of 350 feet each. It will be built of iron, and cost about $5,000,000. There will be upon it two double-track carriage-ways and one railway track.

Six tons of elementary school books were purchased in New York the other day for use among the freedmen.

The Supreme Court and Specific Contract Law.

Reference has already been made by us to an alleged decision of the Supreme Court against the Specific Contract law. The Nevada papers publish what purports to be an abstract of the opinion. The case was tried originally in Ormsby county, in that State, and judgment was rendered for the payment of certain taxes in gold coin, in accordance with the Territorial statute, and an appeal was taken from that decision to Washington. The Nevada papers do not say when, or by whom, the opinion was rendered. The following is the passage which purports to upset the Specific Contract Act:

> The judgment of the District Court was erroneous in being rendered for gold and silver coin of the United States. The obligation to pay the tax, if a subject of suit as it is treated in this case, is a debt, within the act of Congress of February 25th, 1863, making the Treasury notes issued in pursuance of it a legal tender in payment of debts. The judgment was in direct conflict with the act, as in requiring the payment of coin it denied the right of payment in legalized paper currency.

The Enterprise comments thus editorially on the decision, to which it gives full credence:

> The important points in this decision are—that a tax becomes a debt when it is delinquent, and may be paid in currency, any State or Territorial law to the contrary notwithstanding; and that the judgment of the Territorial Court was wrong in requiring the payment of the tax in coin, as it is by the act denied the right of payment in legal tender currency. Taxes cannot, therefore, be collected in coin by process of law, and the inference is that, in the opinion of the Supreme Court, money contracts calling for coin may be cancelled in legal tenders, whatever may be the character of the obligation. However, the decision relates exclusively to taxation, and a judgment in relation to a specie coin contract between individuals might be of a different character; but the decision is regarded as an indication of the opinion of the Supreme Court, concerning the validity of such contracts made under State authority, and is contemplated with some nervousness by the California money lenders.

The Alta comments upon these statements, and expresses doubts whether a decision involving the point in question has actually been made. It says it has seen no positive evidence that such is the case.

Greece.—We hear a good deal now-a-days about this little kingdom, which seems to be much more republican in its character than most people imagine. A free government, a free press, free schools, and manhood suffrage, what more could any people desire? All the nations of the earth might well take it as a model. A recent tourist thus describes it:

> "Greece has a free government, a free press, vote by ballot and universal, or, rather, manhood suffrage. In every village there is a free school; in many towns there are free colleges, and they are open on equal terms to all the citizens. The system of education is one of the most perfect in Europe. An English writer, in a review of the progress of Greece, sarcastically refers to the negative virtues of Grecian rule: 'In Greece there is no privileged or titled aristocracy. There are no game laws, no rich livings, no overpaid parsons and starving curates, no pocket parliamentary boroughs.'"

Advertising for a Wife.—A Chicago dispatch of March 17th says:

> "The citizens, members of the Legislature and others, had a 'rich time' at Madison, Wisconsin, on Friday night. An innocent Chicagoan named Swanberg advertised in the Chicago Tribune for a wife. He was answered by a young fellow of Madison under the name of a young lady ready to receive the proposals and inviting him to visit her. He went, met the supposed young lady and proposed to elope with her. He was immediately arrested by a bogus officer for attempt at abduction and tried by a bogus court. The whole proceedings were carried on with great gravity and the victim had not the remotest idea but what the whole was a sad reality. After standing the ordeal of a two hours' trial he was finally released on condition that he would leave town immediately. This he did in a train leaving for Milwaukee just in the nick of time."

Ear-rings to clasp, not pierce the ear, are now worn.

The Poor Little Sufferer will be immediately relieved by using Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, for children teething. It softens the gums, reduces inflammation, cures wind colic, allays all pain, and gives the child quiet, natural sleep, from which it awakes invigorated and refreshed. Perfectly safe in all cases, as millions of mothers can testify. Hostetter, Smith & Dean, Agents for the Pacific Coast.

Throat Diseases.—We would call attention to 'Brown's Bronchial Troches.' We have found them efficacious in allaying irritation in the Throat and Bronchia, and would commend them to the attention of Public Speakers and others troubled with affections of the Throat. They are also an excellent remedy for Hoarseness resulting from cold.—Congregationalist, Boston.

The Rush for the Family Dye Colors of Howe & Stevens is as great as ever. Once introduced to a family or neighborhood, and they spread like wildfire. The truth is, they are so nice to have about the house that every prudent and sensible matron will have them. Howe & Stevens employ some one hundred hands to keep up to orders. Sold by Smith & Davis.

The subscriptions to the Astoria lot sale are so far taken that the distribution has been definitely fixed for Wednesday, the 15th day of May. Agents have been appointed in most of the towns, and H. B. Parker, Esq., is General Agent. The distribution will take place at the Court House, under the management of the County officers. The price of a share is fifty dollars. Among the prizes is a homestead and three lots worth $5000, which some one will get for $50. There are also three lots valued at $1000 each; six at $500; eight at $300; thirty-four at $200; fifty-one at $150; two hundred at $100, and one hundred and twenty-four shares consist of two lots each; twenty-two of four lots, and twenty-one of six lots each, and about one-third of the shares are lots worth from $100 down to $50. No ticket will draw less than a $50 lot. The purchase money is payable on delivery of a warrantee deed for the lots drawn; but special arrangements can be made by addressing the proprietor, C. Olney, at Astoria.

REMOVED.—We are pleased to inform the public that KOHN & FISHEL, of the St. Louis Store, have removed to the handsome ware room recently occupied by Weil Bros., where they shall be glad to see their old customers and those of Weil Bros. Kohn & Fishel have bought an immense stock of clothing and dry goods at extremely low prices therefore are enabled to sell everything in their line 25 per cent. less than they can be purchased elsewhere. It certainly must be a pleasure to a person to know that he can buy of Kohn & Fishel such handsome suits as they sell for $25, and think even if times are dull we can enjoy life. The public will please keep in mind that at KOHN & FISHEL'S, No. 91 Front street, is the place to purchase all kinds of clothing, gents' furnishing goods, dry goods and everything in that line.

PROPERTY RENTED, BOUGHT AND SOLD. COLLECTIONS MADE and HELP FURNISHED.

Also, for Sale, either Wholesale or Retail,

PRINCE'S METALLIC PAINT.

This Paint by analysis is 72 per cent. Oxide of Iron, and 28 per cent. Cement Limestone, and is guaranteed the Cheapest and most durable Paint in use, as a Coating for IRON, TIN or WOOD.

Also, General Agent for

BROWN'S ENGLISH ROOFING PAINT.

This Pure Black Paint is superior to all other Black Roofing Cements, Mastics and Patent Roofings now in use; and for the last ten years, the genuine has been used in twenty-four States of the Union, and is now a fixed institution for the following purposes:

The Painting of Tin, Sheet-Iron, Copper or Zinc Roofs, Galvanized Iron Bridges, Locomotive and Steamboat Smoke Pipes, and all Iron Work requiring a perfect pure glossy black, exposed to the weather and fire.

It has been in general use in England for the last ten years, for the protection of Vessels' Bottoms from the water and the worm, for which it is particularly adapted.

Old Leaky Shingle or Tin Roofs can be made perfectly tight, and as good as new, with two coats of this Paint.

SAN FRANCISCO ASSAYING AND REFINING WORKS,

No. 416 Montgomery Street,

(Successors to Kellogg, Hewston & Company.)

CAPITAL STOCK, $1,000,000!

Directors:

JOHN PARROTT,	CHAS. E. McLANE,
WM. C. RALSTON,	A. HAYWARD,
LOUIS A. GARNETT.

LOUIS A. GARNETT..........President and Manager.
JOHN HEWSTON, Jr......Chemist and Superintendent.

THIS COMPANY HAVING GREATLY enlarged their Refining Works, and introduced many other important improvements, are pleased to announce that they feel warranted in again reducing materially their terms of doing business.

THE TARIFF OF CHARGES

Which they now submit to the public—considered with reference to the cost of material and labor—is lower than in any other part of the world, and secures to the mining interest of this coast an important increase in both the minting and commercial value of bullion.

Their charges hereafter will be as follows:

FOR ASSAYING DEPOSITS FOR UNPARTED GOLD BARS.

One-eighth of one per cent. (heretofore a quarter) for all amounts over $1,000, and two dollars for any smaller sum. Returns made in twenty-four hours.

FOR ASSAYING DEPOSITS FOR UNPARTED SILVER BARS.

Two dollars for the gold contained, up to $1,600, and one-eighth of one per cent, for all amounts over that sum, and one per cent. on the silver contained. Returns made in twenty-four hours.

FOR REFINING DEPOSITS MADE FOR COIN OR FINE BARS.

On bullion under 300 parts gold, 2 cents per ounce.

On bullion from 300½@600 parts gold, 4 cents per ounce.

On bullion from 600½@750 parts gold, 6 cents per ounce.

On bullion from 750½@940½ parts gold, 8 cents per ounce.

Above 950 the only charge will be for coinage. But there will be no charge for refining less than two dollars.

FOR COINING GOLD.

This charge will be the same as at the Mint—a half of one per cent.—and which is paid by us to that institution. But there will be no charge in future for making fine gold or silver bars from bullion refined by us.

RETURNS IN COIN IN FORTY-EIGHT HOURS.

Silver contained in deposits for coin will be accounted for at the same rate customary at the Mint.

Gold bars of other Assayers, in good standing, will be cashed by us at the highest market rates.

Dust and bullion can be forwarded to us from any part of the country, and returns made through Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express.

CHARGES AT U. S. BRANCH MINT.

For the convenience of those not familiar with the terms of the Mint, we subjoin the tariff of charges now in force at that institution:

For refining bullion under 300 parts gold, 3 cents per ounce.

For refining bullion from 300½@600 parts gold, 5 cents per ounce.

For refining bullion from 600½@750 parts gold, 7 cents per ounce.

For refining bullion from 750½@830 parts gold, 11 cents per ounce.

For refining bullion from 830½@940½ parts gold, 14 cents per ounce.

The charge for coinage is half of one per cent., and the charge for making fine silver bars, the same.

Comparing the net value of deposits for coinage, with the proceeds of unparted gold bars sold in the market—assuming that the bars have lost ⅛ of one per cent.—they must be sold at the following par rates to equal the return which would have been made had they been deposited for coinage:

850 par to equal Mint return, at refining charge of 14 cents.

846 par to equal Mint return, at refining charge of 14 cents.

805 par to equal San Francisco A. & R. Works return, at refining charge of 8 cents. mh1d2p3m

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.—The Common Council met on Wednesday evening, His Honor, the Mayor, presiding. Present, M s. Carter, Fechheimer, Hallock, Lownsdale, O'Connor, Rosenheim and Zieber. The minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

PETITIONS, REMONSTRANCES, ETC.

A petition was received from J. M. Strowbridge and other property holders, representing 950½ feet on Second street, asking for its improvement between Morrison and Yamhill, in the same manner as that of Madison street.

A petition was received from Wm. Gray and others, representing 500 feet on Second street, asking improvement of the street by a plank roadway 14 feet wide and side-walks.

A petition was received from Wm. Weatherford and others, representing 833½ feet, to the same effect.

All three of the petitions were referred to the Committee on Streets and Public Property.

A petition was received from G. Waters and others, asking the improvement of Second street, between Madison and Harrison by grading street and constructing side-walks.

Notice for the improvement prayed for, was ordered to be published.

A ... was received from T. A. Savier and others, against removing the lamp at the corner of Front and Vine to the corner of Front and A streets. Laid over for the time being.

REPORT OF COMMITTEES.

The Committee on Ways and Means, to whom was referred the petition of E. J. Northrup for relief for damages to work at the junction of Front and Jefferson, reported that in their opinion the damage was not caused by any fault of the city, and that therefore the city should not be called upon to pay the damages.

REPORTS OF OFFICERS.

A communication was received from C. P. Ferry, City Treasurer, stating that he is unable to return the tax roll and his report thereon, in a manner satisfactory to himself, and therefore asked till the next meeting of the Council. The time asked for was granted.

CLAIMS AGAINST THE CITY.

The bill of R. Wilcox for salary from April 1st to the 15th, $75, and for stamps, $5, was ordered paid.

The following bills were laid on the table: Bunnell Bros., sundries for engine house No. 1—two bills, $11,65, and $17,80. Smith Bros., repairs for engine house No. 1, $1,50.

Oregon Herald for advertising, $22,25, ordered paid. H. L. Pittock for advertising, $7,50. On motion of Mr. A..., indefinitely postponed.

BUSINESS LYING ON THE TABLE.

The petition of C. P. Bacon and others, for the improvement of Second street, between E and Morrison, by a plank road-way, 14 feet wide, and side-walks, was taken from the table and on motion notice of such improvement was ordered published.

The ordinance to provide for the establishment of a day and night police was taken from the table and indefinitely postponed.

Bill of Chas. Lee and wife for witness fees in certain cases in 1866, $6, were taken from the table and indefinitely postponed.

The report of the committee to whom had been referred the petition of F. Dekum and others for removal of the lamp at corner of Vine and Front streets to corner of A and Front, was taken from the table and read. The remonstrance of T. A. Savier and others against the same, was also read; whereupon the further consideration of both, was indefinitely postponed.

READING OF ORDINANCES.

An ... providing for the opening of A street from North Fifth to North Sixth streets, was read first and ...

The ... making certain appropriations for 1867 ... by inserting a clause appropriating $100 for repairs of street sewers, and then passed.

The vote. Carter, Fechheimer, Lownsdale, O'Connor, ... and Zieber 6.

Nays—Mr. Hallock.

The ... appropriates $500 for salary of Chief Engineer of the Fire Department, $1,125 for salary of ... and $100 for repairs to sewers.

The ordinance authorizing a loan for river improvements, being the special order, was laid over one week.

PROPOSITIONS AND MOTIONS.

Mr. Zieber moved to reconsider the vote by which the bill of H. L. Pittock was indefinitely postponed, which ..., and then on motion of the same, the bill was ordered paid.

Mr. Zieber presented a communication from the Mayor, ... ding the opening of streets running east and west, and particularly Morrison street, through block "H."

Mr. Zeiber also offered a resolution which was adopted, directing the Mayor and the Committee on Streets and Public Property to inquire into the expediency of such opening of streets and to confer with Stephen Coffin in relation to opening Morrison street through block "H."

Mr. Lownsdale offered a resolution reciting the facts in the case of Smith Bros.' bill and ordering a warrant to be drawn for its payment. Adopted.

A notice was ordered published declaring the establishment of grades of streets west of Park street and to change certain other grades.

The bills of Bunnell Bros., $11 65 and $17 80 were taken from the table and ordered paid.

Mr. Hallock offered a resolution, which was adopted, directing the Auditor to have all ordinances hereafter passed and approved, published in the Daily Herald.

The Council adjourned.

THE MILITARY AND THE INDIANS.—We are in frequent receipt of letters from various parts of eastern Oregon, complaining in the bitterest terms of the lack of military ... in that direction. They charge the military authorities with devoting all their attention to Idaho and the region of the Chico road, to the utter neglect of all the Eastern and Southern borders of Oregon. They say, and with much truth, doubtless, that the very vigor and ... of the military guardianship over the region of the Chico road, have rendered the above mentioned ... of Oregon many times more dangerous for travel ... than it would be if there were not a ... east of the Cascade mountains. Much of this complaint is against the commanding officer of the Department of the Columbia. We are inclined to the opinion, ..., that the complaints in this respect are mistaken. Gen. Halleck made a tour of the Chico road last year and whisked through Oregon by the safest and most thickly settled route, and he assumed the responsibility of the total re-arrangement of military posts which followed soon after. We doubt if Gen. Steele was ever consulted, except as to the mere execution of Gen. Halleck's plan, after it was fully formed. At that time there were several companies distributed in such manner as to protect the Eastern Oregon settlements and miners and to keep the Indians beyond them all on the uninhabited and ... deserts. Gen. Halleck passed over the Chico road, and because there seemed to be no danger of Indian ... immediately conceived the military blunder of ... nearly all the troops from Oregon and stationing them along the Chico road where there was nothing to protect except a road franchise. There were neither miners nor settlements except at the termini of that road. The effect of that blunder was to crowd the ... into the mining and agricultural settlements of .... The Indians being pushed out of their natural ranges into a country which they had once abandoned, had no means of sustenance but to plunder. Plunders, ... and massacres followed. Then as a sort of acknowledgment of his blunder, Gen. Halleck ordered a small addition to the garrison at Camp Watson. This protects, in some measure, the immediate vicinity of Canyon City; but the Indians find nothing to hinder them from stopping about the Malheur lake and raiding from that point, northward to Baker City and ... and westward to the very base of the Cascade mountains. Between the posts of Ft Boise and Camp Lyon on the east and Camp Watson, on the west, there is a large region of territory which is wholly unprovided with military protection. All over this region the Indians are absolutely at liberty to roam, raid, kill, and steal, and they seem to be fully conscious of their immunity. The reason, the only apparent one, for this State of things, is that the Chico road must be thoroughly protected, if not the Chico road, then the Boise district. The policy of Gen. Halleck seems to be to get out on the ..., beyond civilization and drive the Indians in upon the settlements, instead of keeping his forces on the verge of the settlements to drive the Indians outward upon the deserts. The people of Eastern Oregon have ... to have their protest against such a policy, heard and ... ed. They shall have our sympathies and our aid, so far as we can lend it, in forcing upon the attention of the military authorities, the urgent need of their ... for military protection. It may be pertinent to inquire why soldiers are kept at Fort Walla Walla, Fort ... and other posts where there are no hostile Indians and very few of any character. Why not leave those posts in charge of a subaltern and send their present garrisons into the field? If the soldiers now idle in this ... were placed in active service and then were the entire force insufficient to guard the whole country, there would be less occasion than now to grumble at and find fault with, the military authorities.

...—On Tuesday night about 12 o'clock, a gentleman visiting this city, while returning to his hotel from a ... visit to a friend's residence on Sixth street, ... found a small wire stretched across Washington street, sidewalks and all. He tripped but did not fall. Having heard of garroters and ambuscaders, etc., who make a living by relieving belated passengers of money and valuables, he looked quickly about him but either there was no one near or he was not the man the wire-... were lying in wait for. Persons who passed along Washington street just before 12 o'clock, found no such impediment of any kind, and no wire remained anywhere across the street yesterday morning. It may have been a mere freak of mischievous boys, or there may have been a worse and more serious purpose in thus placing the wire.

GOOD TEMPLARS AT OSWEGO.—Captain E. G. Adams instituted a lodge of Good Templars at Oswego on the 20th inst., with twenty charter members. The following officers were installed: William L. Coleman, W. C. T.; Miss Sarah Trullinger, W. R. H. S.; Miss Agnes McGowan, W. L. H. S.; Miss Isabella Tryon, W. V. T.; Hugh McGown, W. F. S.; Miss Alison Pennington, W. T.; Socrates H. Tryon, W. S.; Samuel Reif, W. A. R. S.; William Chapman, W. M.; Miss Kate DeLashmutt, W. D. M.; Charles L. ..., W. C.; William Pennington, P. W. C. T.; Mrs. Julia A. Coleman, W. I. G.; Larkin Ball, W. O. G. The lodge is known as Pearl Lodge. A fine hall has already been fitted up for its meetings.

I. O. G. T.—Our informant in relation to the appointment of Thos. E. Bramhall as Deputy G. W. C. T. for this district, was slightly mistaken as to the nature of the commission held by Mr. B. Instead of being from Grand Worthy C. T. W. H. Payne, the commission comes from the Right Worthy Grand Templar of the Grand Lodge of North America, and makes Mr. B. a District Right Worthy Grand Templar for the district of Idaho and Montana. His commission from Mr. Payne was simply a special authority to institute a lodge at Canyon City.

A LARGE PIECE OF CASTING.—In the course of our rounds, yesterday, we called in at the Willamette Iron Works and examined a large casting just completed for Dr. Kelly's mill at Lewiston. It is a driving wheel, eight feet in diameter and weighs 1,815 pounds. This sort of casting requires a good deal of skill to make the mould all perfectly, but the wheel in question is perfect ... and would do credit to any foundry. The ... of and filling the mould with the melted metal ... about thirteen minutes. The wheel will be ... this morning for Lewiston.

DESECRATION.—Some time between Sunday noon and Monday afternoon last, some person unknown, removed a lilac bush from a grave in the cemetery on the east side of the river. The person who placed it there is willing to present the thing who removed the shrub, as many similar ones as will satisfy him or her, rather than to have any more of them stolen from the grave of a friend. These tributes of affection for the memory of the departed ones, should be held sacred by all, at least, who wear the human form, and it is difficult to fathom the depth of meanness there is in desecrating a grave by uprooting and removing them.

CELEBRATION.—We are informed that the anniversary of the introduction of Odd Fellowship in the United States will be celebrated at Fort Vancouver on Friday evening. Preparations are making for a general attendance. The Methodist Church has been obtained for the occasion, and Hon. J. H. Mitchell has been invited to deliver an address.

MAIL CONTRACT AWARDED.—The proposal of D. W. Field for carrying the mails over route No. 15, 135, between Centerville and Hillsboro, Washington county, has been accepted by the Department. The service will be weekly, and will commence on the 1st of July. E. Jackson has been appointed Postmaster at Centerville.

BASE BALL CLUB.—The Pioneers will meet on their grounds across the river, this afternoon at 4 o'clock, for practice. Hereafter, the practice meetings will be held at the new grounds of the Club on Oak street, between sixth and seventh, which are now being fitted up for that purpose.

ADDRESSES.—William Morton, Grand Master of the I. O. O. F., of Oregon, Rt. Rev. Bishop Scott and A. G. Bradford, having been invited, will deliver addresses to the members of the order, in this city, on Friday evening, the 26th, at the Odd Fellows' Hall. That is the anniversary day of the order in the United States.

WILLAMETTE FREIGHTS.—Arrived per steamer Alert from Oregon City, on Wednesday, April 24th: 432 gunnies bacon, 303 boxes apples, 690 qr sks flour, 321 bags of wheat, 134 bags feed, 1 bale hides, 3 bales and 2 cases woolen goods, 10 cases hides, 69 bags oats, 3 coops chickens, 11 rolls leather.

SOIREE.—Prof. Cardinel will give a soiree, at Oro Fino Hall, on Friday evening, the 26th inst. The hall will be open to the public, and those who have ever attended one of Mr. Cardinel's soirees, will be most likely to be found there on that evening.

BUTTE CREEK COAL.—Mr. Frank Cooper arrived by the Alert yesterday with a ton of coal from the mine on Butte creek, Marion county. He took it to the Portland Gas works with a view of having it tested.

MUSICAL AND DRAMATICAL.—Dan. Watson—"Old Eph" —has posters out, announcing a musical and dramatical performance for his benefit, at Oro Fino Hall, next Saturday evening.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.—Henry Anderson was yesterday charged in the police court with an assault and battery upon John Haggerty. The trial will be had this morning.

TREASURE RECEIPTS.—By the Cascade yesterday, Wells, Fargo & Co. received $20,000 in treasure.

BARMAN BROS., Agents for the Pacific Shirt Manufactory, corner Front and Morrison Streets, formerly City of Paris Store, Portland.

CHINOOK SALMON AND TROUT.—At the Union Fish Market, Washington street, near Second, may be found this morning a fine lot of Chinook salmon and trout, received last evening—the former from Rainier and the latter from Lewis river.

AT THE LAFAYETTE RESTAURANT under the Oro Fino Hall, may be found on the table every luxury the market affords, at the cheapest price for epicures.

PERRY DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER.
THE GREAT FAMILY MEDICINE OF THE AGE!
Pain Killer taken internally, should be adulterated with milk or water, and sweetened with sugar if desired, or made into a syrup with molasses. For a cough, a few drops on sugar eaten will be more effective than anything else. For sore throat, gargle the throat with a mixture of Pain Killer and water, and relief is immediate and the cure positive.
It should not be forgotten that the Pain Killer is equally as good to take internally as to use externally. Each bottle is wrapped with full directions for its use. Dyspepsia can be and is cured every day by the use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer. This is the most wonderful and valuable medicine ever known for this disease. Its action upon the system is entirely different from any other preparation known. The patient, while taking this medicine, may eat anything the appetite craves. Sold by all medicine dealers.

Bronchitis or Chronic Sore Throat.—It is attended with irritation of the bronchial tubes, which convey the air we breathe into the lungs. The irritation produces sore throat, hoarseness, coughing, and sometimes spitting of matter streaked with blood. If it is neglected it will extend down to the lungs, and settles into confirmed consumption. ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will be found a most valuable remedy for curing this disease, and prevent its running into the consumption. For sale by dealers in family medicine generally. ia20

If, as the old adage declares, "Health is the Greatest earthly Blessing," then every effort to preserve it pays well.

DRAKE'S PLANTATION BITTERS

Have been of great service in making people healthy, and keeping them so. They should be found in every household.

They give tone to the Stomach, vigor to the body, and remove dark doubts and unhappy feelings from the mind. They relieve pain and fortify the whole system against the attacks of disease.

There is nothing better to take "for the Stomach sake" than the PLANTATION BITTERS.

They cure Dyspepsia, Heartburn, Indigestion, Drowsiness, Headache, Pain in the Side, Liver Complaint, and Rheumatic Pains, with magical power.

A good effect is felt at once upon making the first trial. No change of diet is necessary. Eat the best you can get and all you want. Follow our directions and you will soon feel

WELL, STRONG AND HEARTY.

A great many side hits are being made at the Plantation Bitters, by a score or two of disinterested friends who have endeavored to imitate or counterfeit them. It's all of no use. The people won't be imposed upon. The Plantation Bitters are increasing in use and popularity every day, and "that's what's the matter." They are the same sized bottle, and made just as they were at first, and will continue to be, or we shall stop making them.

They create a healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet.
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach.
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Diarrhea, Cholera and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.

They are the best Bitters in the world. They make the weak strong, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. The Recipe and full Circular are around each bottle. Clergymen, Merchants, and persons whose sedentary habits induce weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, liver complaint, constipation, &c., will find immediate and permanent relief in these Bitters. But above all, they are recommended to weak and delicate females and mothers.

They are sold by all respectable merchants. See that each bottle has our private United States Stamp over the cork and steel-plate side label.

Beware of refilled bottles. See that the stamp has not been tampered with. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon is a swindler and impostor, and should be immediately reported to us.

Mustang Liniment.

OVER A MILLION DOLLARS SAVED!

Gentlemen:—"I had a negro man worth $1,200 who took cold from a bad hurt in the leg, and was useless for over a year. I had used everything I could hear of without benefit, until I tried the Mexican Mustang Liniment. It soon effected a permanent cure."
J. L. DOWNING,
Montgomery, Ala., June 17, 1859.

"I take pleasure in recommending the Mexican Mustang Liniment as a valuable and indispensable article for Sprains, Sores, Scratches or Galls on Horses. Our men have used it for Burns, Bruises, Sores, Rheumatism, &c., and all say it acts like magic. J. W. HEWITT, Foreman American, Wells, Fargo's and Harnden's Express.

"The sprain of my daughter's ankle, occasioned while skating last winter, was entirely cured in one week, after she commenced using your celebrated Mustang Liniment.
Gloucester, Mass., Aug. 1, 1865. ED. SEELY."

It is an admitted fact that the Mexican Mustang Liniment performs more cures in shorter time, on man and beast, than any article ever discovered. Families, livery men and planters should always have it on hand. Quick and sure it certainly is. All genuine is wrapped in steel-plate engravings, bearing U. S. Stamp of DEMAS BARNES & Co., over the top.

An effort has been made to counterfeit it with a cheap stone-plate label. Look closely!

Lyon's Katharion.

It is a most delightful Hair Dressing.
It eradicates scurf and dandruff.
It keeps the head cool and clean.
It makes the hair rich, soft and glossy.
It prevents hair turning gray and falling off.
It restores hair upon prematurely bald heads.

This is just what Lyon's Katharion will do. It is pretty—it is cheap—durable. It is literally sold by the car-load, and yet its almost incredible demand is daily increasing, until there is hardly a country store that does not keep it, or a family that does not use it.

E. THOMAS LYON, Chemist, N. Y.

Lyon's Extract Ginger.

LYON'S EXTRACT OF PURE JAMAICA GINGER—for Indigestion, Nausea, Heartburn, Sick Headache, Cholera Morbus, Flatulency, &c., where a warming stimulant is required. Its careful preparation and entire purity make a cheap and reliable article for culinary purposes. Sold everywhere at 50 cents per bottle. Ask for "LYON'S" PURE EXTRACT. Take no other.

CAUTION—See that the private U. S. Stamp of Demas, Barnes & Co. is over cork of each bottle. None other is genuine.

Lyon's Flea Powder.

DEATH TO FLEAS.—It is well known that Lyon's genuine Magnetic Powder will perfectly destroy everything in the shape of fleas, ticks, bed-bugs, roaches, &c.; that it is perfect poison to the insect tribe, but strictly harmless to the human species and domestic animals. The genuine has the signature of E. LYON, and the private stamp of DEMAS, BARNES & Co. Anything else of this kind is an imitation or counterfeit. Any druggist will procure the genuine if you insist you will have no other.

PIONEER WASHER.
JAMES BRUSIE,
AGENT FOR OREGON AND WASHINGTON TERRITORY.
THIS CELEBRATED WASHING MACHINE IS now for the first time introduced to the Oregon public. It is unrivaled for its simplicity, durability and the rapidity and ease of its motion. Washing the dirtiest clothes perfectly clean in from five to ten minutes, with but slight labor, and lasting, with proper care, for ten years. The wear and tear of clothing in washing by this machine is vastly less than by any other known process of washing. It is easily worked by one person.
This Machine captured the Special Premium at the California State Fair, and all that have used it pronounce it an invaluable adjunct to aid housekeepers and families and washing men and washing women.
It has been extensively introduced throughout the State of California, and received the universal commendation of all who have used it.
The undersigned is now in the city of Portland, where he can be seen at Messrs. Knapp, Burrell & Co.'s, corner of Front and Alder Sts., East side, Portland, and is prepared to furnish the Machine to purchasers and also to sell and dispose of County Rights for the sale of the same.

April Fools

He who [illegible] day by day,
That his youth doth pass away
Like the blossoms on the tree,
Sure an April fool will be,
For the blossoms fade and die
That the tree may fruit supply;
So, youth fled, we n er should find
Fruitless wisdom left behind.

He who lives to garner gold,
Selling what should ne er be sold,
Bartering peace for dross, why he
Sure an April fool must be!
Many who have mourned his end
Will rejoice that they may spend;
For the ingots he may save
None will bury in his grave.

He who spurns the horny hand
Throwing loom or tilling land,
Treating labor scornfully,
Sure an April fool is he!
Were the loom of toil bereft
Spider would weave warp and weft;
Earth and labor are allied—
Thriftless groom makes thriftless bride.

He who thinks that time hath done
All for which time was begun,
Nor its onward course doth see,
Sure an April fool must be!
Night but slowly melts away,
Daylight cometh ray by ray;
Time must work creation s plan,
And man be victor over man.

A Tale of a Masquerade.

[From the Milwaukee Wisconsin]

A masquerade would not be much of an affair if there were not some ludicrous scenes attached to it or connected with it. Last evening, that of the Musical Society was no exception to the general rule, and any number of very funny incidents transpired.

No person failed to notice a very conspicuous costume present, a gentleman dressed as a Spanish cavalier—a very neat and tasty dress, set off upon a well built and athletic frame. The gentleman, whom we shall call X., paid particular,—indeed, most devoted attention, to a pink domino, enshrouding a sylph like form, acting as her escort at all times, and paying no attention, worth noticing, to any one else. In promenading or in resting they were in earnest conversation, and the ladies, who could not fail to notice them, thought he must be a duck of a fellow to pay so much attention, while the gentlemen thought she must be a divine little angel to listen so devoted [illegible] his soft things. Perhaps they both were just what they had the credit of being.

The cavalier was a legal gentleman of our city, and the pink domino was—no matter who just now.

The gentleman is married and has a small family. He loves his wife, but people do whisper that sometimes he loves other people's just as much. The cavalier proposed sometime since to go to the ball, but his wife insisted that her health was not very good, and as there would be something of a crowd present, she would not go—to her masquerades were very tedious affairs at best. That X was delighted at the determination, there is no doubt. He did not say so, however, but [illegible] his wife decided not to go he met in company [illegible] and pretty widow, and in the heat of [illegible] he asked her to accompany him [illegible] The widow was possessed [illegible] and she consented to go [illegible] costume and a pink domino [illegible] noticed it, very [illegible] In concluding [illegible] object in view, evi[illegible] the story, she saw [illegible] she sought the pres[illegible] the whole story and in[illegible] [illegible] the whole thing. "That [illegible] of yours has been pay[illegible] to me of late, and I do [illegible] are a woman of spirit you will [illegible] for this, and if you are not [illegible] go with him to the maquer[illegible] with him all the evening just as [illegible]

[illegible] his wife was not a woman of [illegible] nine o'clock a car[illegible] and a Spanish cavalier [illegible] gentlemanly, very devotedly [illegible] assisted a domino into it and [illegible] Hall.

[illegible] paid little attention to the fancy scenes [illegible] If they laughed [illegible] Prying eyes tried [illegible] They sauntered about [illegible] refreshments and occa[illegible] They made no attempts [illegible] masques, for it was [illegible] other well. At all times [illegible] the softest things [illegible] a close observer might have [illegible] the words were very soft, [illegible] fair domino start and tremble [illegible] she seemed to have good control [illegible] there is no doubt that could her [illegible] there would have been traces [illegible] blushes.

It was not a very late hour when the cavalier and the domino had [illegible] from the scene. When the masques were removed at 12 o'clock [illegible] looking to see who the couple were but they were gone, and all were disappointed. Let us follow them to the house of the widow, where they drove in haste, the cavalier very happy, very talkative and almost beside himself with joy, the domino very quiet and reserved. They were shown into the [illegible] room, where the domino throws himse[illegible] upon a lounge. The cavalier steps forward to turn up the gas a little, but a pleasant voice says

"[illegible] for you, Mr X," and the room is [illegible] with light.

The [illegible] was that of the young widow, and [illegible] the light showed the lawyer leaning [illegible] aghast with astonish[illegible] [illegible] widow to the domino, yet [illegible] a word.

"Why [illegible] is the matter with Mr X?" asked [illegible] look astonished. I expected [illegible] been waiting for you some time. [illegible] she would come here."

"My wife," gasped the cavalier.

[illegible] Why what is the matter with you [illegible] unwell?"

The cavalier scarce seemed to know whether he was unwell [illegible] He turned to the domino [illegible] her masque, and he saw his wife [illegible] before him. His astonishment was greater than before. Still he could say nothing. The wife was too indignant to speak. The widow came to the relief of both.

"I tell you what it is, Mr X," she said, "You have one of the best women in the world for a wife, and you abuse her worse than any man I ever knew. I just wish I was in her place for about five minutes."

The cavalier looked as if he wished nothing of the kind. The widow went on

"You insulted me in asking me to go with you. If I had had a big brother able to whip you he should have done it, and if it had not been that a woman cannot do those things, I would have done it myself. You deserved it any way, you—you ugly monster. As I could not do it, I told your wife, and we determined to punish you, and I guess you have had a pretty good lesson, and one which will last you some time. I know by the way your poor wife blushes, you have said all sorts of insulting things to her, thinking it was me, but it wasn't, and I guess you have found it all out. You've had your lesson; now go home, and if I ever hear of your neglecting your wife again or running off after other women, I'll tell the whole story, and have it published in the papers, with your name in great big type. Oh! you big monster, you!"

Poor X was suffering terribly. He had never been caught so fairly before. The perspiration was pouring down his forehead, and the air of the room seemed terribly confined. He mentally cursed masquerades, dominoes, bewitching widows and his own stupidity, and it was a relief when his wife, who evidently felt that he had been punished sufficiently, intimated that they had better go home, and the poor cavalier slunk away, like a whipped school boy. We trust the lesson will be a lasting one to him.

ANOTHER FEMININE PHENOMENON.—A trustworthy gentleman gives us an account of an extraordinary illness of a young woman—a Miss Winsor, in Providence, Rhode Island—quite similar in many of its features to the phenomenal case in Brooklyn. Miss Winsor has been confined to her bed for several months, and has not partaken of sufficient nourishment to keep her alive. If she had been in a normal condition. Yet her faculties have become strangely acute, and she seems to be endowed with a second sight. When the physician, Dr Ira Barrows, calls on her, she can tell the number of visits he has made, the numbers of the houses of his patients, and describes accurately their complaints. The clock having been removed from her chamber, she was enabled to determine at any hour the exact time of day or night, and she would describe the color, size and marks of the doctor's horse and the hue and texture of the linings of his carriage. She composed a poem which was called the Sea Serpent, one half of each line in Latin and the rest in English, and the Latin was pronounced pure by the professors of Brown University, although she has never had the least instruction in the language. She also draws finely without having taken lessons, and does other extraordinary things not to be accounted for by any of the known laws of temperament, medicine or science. While asleep her right arm is constantly in motion, though it is perfectly powerless when she is awake. A number of physicians and savans of Providence are deeply interested in the case of Miss Winsor, and are endeavoring to solve the mystery of her seeming supernatural powers.—New York Gazette

The Oil Region of Pennsylvania

O J. Hollister, of Colorado, who recently traveled through the Venango oil region, writes of it as follows:

Well, about the oil. It extends along the Alleghany from seventeen miles below Franklin to Tidioute, in Warren county, forty-four miles by the railway, which hugs the western bank of the river from Franklin upward, above it all, sixty miles. The river is crooked, but its general direction is towards the Southwest. Five miles below Franklin is the Foster farm, and seventeen below the McMillan, both considered valuable oil properties, and having a producing well or two, but not developed to much extent. Above Franklin as far as Tidioute, forty-four miles the derricks once used for handling the well boring tools line the sides of the Alleghany like scattered trees in an "opening," and dot the not unfrequent islands in the stream. On the right bank but little has been attempted beyond the immediate beach. On the left numerous runs open vistas among the low, wooded hills, and these from seven to seventeen miles back from the Alleghany the great oil fever rose, raged and ran out. Among these runs the most famous are Oil Creek (Oil City, Petroleum Centre, Rouseville, and Titusville,) Pithole Creek (Oleopolis and Pithole,) and Dennis run (Tidioute.) At the mouth of Oil Creek is Oil City, looking as though it had fallen through its own bowels more than once. Venango City is on the opposite bank of the Alleghany, and connected with Oil City by a bridge a thousand feet long; its population is not far from ten thousand. Steamers come to its wharf from Pittsburg, and even ascend much higher when the river is full—about three months of each year. The buildings are of wood, shabby and dirty, fronted on the river by oil sheds a mile long, and overtopped by well derricks. There are huge oil tanks made of boiler iron, some of them of thirteen hundred barrels capacity. Oil Creek is crossed by the railway on a bridge five hundred feet in length. Petroleum Center and Rouseville are on Oil Creek, the former at the mouth of Benninghoff, the latter of Cherry Run. The former is still an important oil producing district. Rouseville was named after Mr. Rouse, one of the pioneers of Oildom. He struck the first flowing well in the vicinity, one of those which throw a stream of oil the full size of the bore, about four inches high above the surface for weeks. The same day it began to flow Rouse came up from the boarding house in the evening with friends, smoking a cigar, to look at it. Accompanying the oil a huge column of gas, so dense that it could plainly be seen, burst from the well, and as Rouse stepped into it, it fired from his cigar and exploded with a tremendous concussion, knocking down and destroying almost instantly everybody within reach. About twenty men were burned. Rouse lived long enough to bequeath his property to Warren county, after suitably providing for his father and liberally remembering some of his friends. The burning well was a splendid, almost terrible sight, for five days and nights. The four-inch column of oil, thrown nearly two hundred feet in the air, and then breaking and falling like an artificial fountain, was a pillar and a shower of fire falling into a lake of fire, the outlet of which far down the river was a moving sheet of fire. People came from everywhere but Pike's Peak to see it. At last a crazy man loaded an old sled with wet manure, attached a long pole to it, and backing it on the well put out the fire. This scene was repeated afterward in other parts of the country, except that men were not destroyed. Titusville is seventeen miles above Oil City, on Oil creek, has about twelve thousand inhabitants, a fine site, and splendid water power, and is connected by rail with Corry, the junction of the Erie and Philadelphia, and Atlantic and Great Western roads. It was formerly an oil town, but its production has mostly ceased, and its population is decreasing in consequence. A railway down the creek to Oil City is nearly completed. Ten miles above the mouth of Oil creek, on the Alleghany, on the mouth of Pithole creek, is Oleopolis, a place of little size or importance. Pithole itself is seven miles up the creek from the river. It owes its existence to oil, and grew to a population of six thousand in three months. Its oil production has greatly fallen off, and the town is being abandoned. Wells which formerly flowed from two to three thousand barrels a day, now scarcely pay expenses, and yet the creek turns out four thousand barrels of oil daily. The sinking of torpedoes deep in the wells and exploding them has been found to largely increase their yield probably by loosening the surrounding country. New wells are occasionally struck, too, and altogether the inhabitants who have neither sold nor made "strikes," bet high yet on Pithole. Two miles above the mouth of Pithole all signs of oil cease for twenty four miles. Here we strike Tidioute, at the south of Dennis run. Among the old fashioned farms are occasional, deserted plantations. Of these the owners have made fortunes in oil and have doubtless gone to the cities to "splurge" for the general amusement. On the opposite bank of the Alleghany from Tidioute may be seen from the cars the noted Economite wells, so called because they belong to the Economites, German Communists, situate somewhere below Pittsburg. One of them was the first successful well in the country. Oil was struck in it in 1858, and it has flowed steadily since six barrels a day, turning its owners by judicious, or perhaps lucky handling of the oil, $80 000, with no expense. It is but 92 feet deep at that. It is not a little curious that oil in this neighborhood is struck between 120 and 150 feet from the surface, while at Pithole they have to go 500 feet on the average, and at Oil Creek 635. The other Economite well is near the first, and the two together now produce 350 barrels a week. This well has the only new derrick I have been able to see from the cars. Tidioute consists of one street along the river, nearly two miles in length. It has been two-thirds built within nine months. The wells are a mile or two up Dennis Run, and now produce 4,000 barrels daily. The district is comparatively new. The discovery of oil in this region, the fearful speculation incident thereto, and the fortunes made and lost, the towns and railroads it has given rise to, the new comforts it has added to the world's possessions, and the trade it has created, are too much of a story for a letter. A gentleman in Franklin said to me that his company had spent $336,000 and owed $27,000; and if they could now dispose of all they owned in oildom for enough to pay their debts, they would be satisfied. No difficulty is now found in boring an average oil well for $2,500. Yet $40,000 has frequently been expended in doing it. The greatest daily oil production was $20,000 barrels. At present it is about half that; 3,000 barrels from Dennis Run, 4,000 from Pithole, and 3,000 from Oil creek. Time was when barrels were worth $2 50 each, and then a barrel of oil was worth only "two bits." The wells flowed into the creeks and raised the rivers. Time was when oil brought six to ten and even as high as fourteen dollars at the wells. Now it only brings two. People say the low price explains the decrease in production. Probably. It is estimated by intelligent men that three or four thousand wells have been bored first and last, and that five out of each hundred paid. About two thirds of these are still in operation. The wells now pump three hundred barrels a day. As to the manner of boring the wells, a cast iron stove pipe is driven down to the rock, and then a four inch hole cut with various tools through the rock until oil is struck or the hope of it is given up. The derricks which dot the oil country, and of which everybody has seen pictures, are for hauling up the tools to clean out the debris or rubble. These used to be twenty-eight feet high, now they are forty eight feet. The railroads which owe their construction to oil, are the Oil City and Meadville, thirty six miles long, Oil Creek, thirty three miles from Titusville to Corry, New Farmers, seventeen miles, Oil City to Titusville, Warren and Franklin, sixty miles, Franklin to Irvineton station on the Erie and Philadelphia, Warren being seven miles east on the latter road, Reno, Pithole and Oil Creek, (Culver's) completed to Plummer, nineteen miles, Alleghany Valley, from Oil City to Pittsburg, completed sixty miles and under contract to be finished within ten months, whole distance one hundred and thirty five miles.

Rev Samuel Clawson, a Methodist preacher of eccentric manners, sometimes called the "wild man," was very popular in Western Virginia some twenty years ago. He was cross eyed, and wiry made, and very dark skinned for a white man. At times he was surprisingly eloquent, always excitable and once in a while extravagant. He once accompanied a brother minister, Rev Mr R, a prominent city pastor, in a visit to a colored church. Mr R. gave the colored preacher the hint, and of course Clawson was invited to preach. He did so, and during the sermon set the impulsive Africans to shouting all over the house. This in turn set Clawson to extravagant words and actions and he leaped out of the pulpit like a deer, and began to take the hands of the colored brethren and mix in quite happily. He wept for joy. Then pressing through the crowd he found brother R and sitting down beside him, he threw his arms around his neck, and with the tears streaming down his face, he said "Brother R, I almost wish I had been born a nigger. These folks have more religion than we have." "Well, well," said brother R, "you come so near it that you needn't cry about it."

Soon after Dr. Johnson's return from Scotland to London, a Scottish lady, at whose house he was, as a compliment, ordered some hotch potch for his dinner. After the doctor had tasted it, she asked him if it was good? To which he replied "Very good for hogs!"

"Then pray," said the lady, "let me help you to a little more."

Something about Love

On earth there is nothing more beautiful than the first breaking of the ground of young, strong, new, pure love. No flower has ever blossomed, however fair, no fragrance that any flower ever emitted, however sweet, no bravery of the sky no witchery of art, nothing that man ever invented or imagined, is to be compared with the hours of dawning love in the young soul. And it is a shame that men should be taught to be ashamed of that which is a prophesy of their highest being and glory. Alas, that it should ever perish in the using! Alas that man does not know that to endure it must rise higher and higher since it is only by growing into its full and later disclosures that it may be saved from quick mortality. It must grow or die, for that which suffices for a beginning is not enough for all, and for all time.

Love, therefore, should be a schoolmaster, carrying its pupils up from room to room, through the whole university of the mind. As the lower begins first, it ends first. The higher, beginning latest, lasts the longest.

And hence, true affection is strongest in later periods of being. Perhaps it is less attractive in novelty, perhaps still less stimulating, than young love but the popular impression that we love strongest when we love earliest is not founded in truth or analogy. No one knows the whole lore of love that does not know how to love with the reason, the imagination and all the moral sentiments. It is the most interior school the soul can know. Men may know how to deal with numbers and solve problems, but that is the rarest, the innermost, the deepest knowledge that comes with loving by all the parts and faculties of the soul.

They only can love greatly or fruitfully who are good, since the line, the direction, is from the flesh toward the spirit. It is from the low toward the high. It is from the substantial toward the invisible. And none can truly love except those whose life is the unfolding of their whole nature on the plan of Christianity.

How pitiful it is to see men build too low! I cannot bear to see the young gathering together and building their nests as the birds do. On my lawn I see the larks and other birds building in the grass, and know that before the young are fledged the remorseless mower, with revolving strokes, will sweep the ground, and the nests will be utterly destroyed, and the young cut down and wasted. And do I not see men building their nests just so? Do I not see love beginning to nestle in the flowers? But the flowers themselves are rooted in the dirt down low, close to the foot that shall easily crush them.

I mourn when I see a mother loving her children for time, and for time only. I mourn when I see two natures that should be eternally affianced loving each other within the horizon of time. There must be something higher than the circlings of this world. No love is fit to be called by the name of love that has not in it something of the other world and much of immortality. It must rise above an instinct or passion. It must have in it faith and hope. It must be a love that is served by reason, by the imagination, by all that there is in the soul.—Henry Ward Beecher,

DRAWING SEATS IN THE HOUSE.—The Washington correspondent of the Chicago Republican gives the following description of the drawing of seats by the members of the House of Representatives of the new Congress.

The only interesting action of the House today was the drawing of seats. E. B Washburne, Thad Stevens, and Francis Thomas, were, by common consent, allowed to keep their old seats. A blindfolded page drew a number of names from the box. Mr. Beaman drew the first and located in front of Mr. Stevens. Soon after came W. D. Kelley, James D Wilson and B F Butler, who took seats directly behind Mr. Stevens, then Messrs Schenck and Shellabarger, who selected seats to his left. Messrs Covode, Broomall and Lawrence repaired a few seats further to the front. Mr Spalding, who, last session, sat upon the Democratic side, came over to the Radical corner, while Mr. Bingham brought up in front of the Democratic camp. Mr. Logan halted upon the right flank of the Democrats, while in the centre of their stronghold the scholastic Morrissey sits, by Price of Iowa. To the rear is Fernando Wood. Messrs. Garfield, Boutwell, and Ashley were unlucky, too, and have back seats on the Republican side. Mr. Hooper, whom rumor assigns to the Chairmanship of the Ways and Means Committee, has a seat directly in front of the official reporters. Mr. Judd, Mr. Wentworth's successor, is in the middle of the House, while the Philadelphia members are near their old seats. The others are scattered all over the House—no Democrats, however, coming over to the Republican side. The members then settle down to their places.

THE DEAD OF THE MEDITERRANEAN.—The whole channel of the Mediterranean must be strewn with human bones. Carthagenians, Syrians, Sidonians, Egyptians, Persians, Greeks and Romans—there they lie, side by side, beneath the eternal waters, and the modern ship that brings freight from Alexandria, sails in its whole course over buried nations. It may be the corruption of the dead that adds that brightness to the phosphorescence of the waves. The Orientals have a superstition on this subject, which represents the spirits of the departed as hovering, whether on land or water, over the spot where the ruins of their earthly tenements are found, so that in plowing the Mediterranean we sail through armies of ghosts, more multitudinous than the waves. These patient spirits sometimes ride on the foam, and at others repose in those delicious little hollows which look like excavated emeralds between the crests of the waves. It is their armies all thronging together, they believe, that constitute the phosphorescence of the sea wherever there is light; and the billows flash with the luminousness of vanished generations, that concentrate, as it were, the starlight on their wings.

THE GODDESS OF LIBERTY.—The origin of the portrait of the Goddess of Liberty upon our coins is of great interest. Mr. Spencer, the inventor of Spencer's lathe, used by the American Bank Note Company, was the artist who cut the first die for our American coin. He cut an exact medallion of Mrs. Washington, the wife of Gen Washington, and the first few coins were struck with her portrait. When Gen. Washington saw them he was displeased, and requested the figure to be removed. Mr Spencer altered the figure a little, and putting a cap upon its head, called it the Goddess of Liberty.

An attorney named Else, rather diminutive in stature, and not particularly respectable in his character, once met Jekyll.

"Sir," said he, "I hear that you have called me a pettifogging scoundrel. Have you done so, sir?"

Jekyll, with a look of contempt, replied—"Sir, I never said that you were a pettifogger or a scoundrel, but I said you were little Else."

"Where are you going?" said one boy to another, who had slipped down on the icy pavement.

"Going to get up," was the blunt reply.

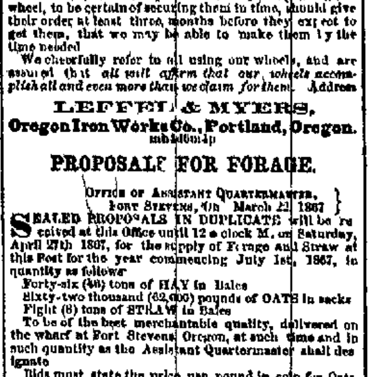
LEFFEL'S

AMERICAN DOUBLE TURBINE



THESE WHEELS, unequaled and unrivaled in the United States or the world, have been fully tested on this coast, more than forty being in use at this date driving all kinds of machinery, Saw Mills, Flour Mills Quartz Mills, Woolen Factories, &c , &c

On account of the extraordinary demand, our stock of wheels is considerably reduced and we are entirely out of several sizes, therefore parties contemplating using our wheel, to be certain of securing them in time, should give their order at least three months before they expect to get them, that we may be able to make them by the time needed.

We cheerfully refer to all using our wheels, and are assured that all will affirm that our wheels accomplish all and even more than we claim for them. Address
